Missed classes

Consistency is very important to maximize the learning experience when learning a foreign language. It is for this reason that we ask that children miss as few classes as possible. However, we understand that illness and schedule conflicts may cause a child to miss a class. Our teachers prepare their materials each week for class, so it is for this reason that we ask parents to let us know in advance or prior to class if a student has to be absent. We encourage parents to review material missed by utilizing the class activity sheet.

Make up classes for students that miss a class for a reason not attributed to FwFL will no longer be scheduled. Instead, however, if there is another option for a class of the same language and similar age group, a student may take that particular class to make up the class missed in addition to the student's normal class. For example, if student A takes a 3-5 year Spanish class on Saturday at 9am and has to miss on a certain date. The following week, student A can take his/her normally scheduled class at 9am in addition to the other 3-5 year Spanish class from 10:10-11:10am. Classes in which a student is unable to attend cannot be refunded or credited towards the next session.

School Year Calendar

Please visit our current school year calendar located in the Current Families tab on the website.

Behavior Policy

One of our goals is to create a learning environment that is fun, safe, and enthusiastic for all students to learn. To ensure that all students have the opportunity to learn in the most positive learning environment, we outline appropriate classroom behavior for the students in class. Students that continuously disrupt the class even after the teacher's and family's repeated attempts to correct the behaviors, may no longer be able to continue in the program.

Tardiness

It is important that our students arrive to class on time. When students arrive late, they may miss part or all of the beginning of the class, which generally involves a warm-up to get the students ready for language instruction. Without time for warm-up, some kids may take a little bit longer to adjust to the language instruction. Students that are habitually tardy may no longer be able to continue in the program.
