

FwFL Shipman Cranford Testimonial

Last summer my husband, our two kids— ages 1 and 6, and I took a life changing trip to San Jose, Costa Rica facilitated by Fun with Foreign Language (FWFL), and the experience was so great that we will be doing it again this summer!

Ordinarily, the prospect of traveling, especially abroad, with two little ones is daunting, but FwFL made it manageable. Ultimately, we decided on an immersive experience— we wanted to live with a family and for our oldest son to be able to be around kids his own age having fun all in Spanish. FwFL made it happen.

From the moment we arrived, we were welcomed with open arms by our host family. They provided us with a warm and comfortable home away from home, introducing us to their extended family, sharing meals with us, and of course sharing their culture with us.

FwFL did an excellent job of facilitating our trip, ensuring that we had a memorable experience. Some of our time was spent touring the city, exploring the sights and sounds of San Jose, and we even visited an inactive volcano, which was a truly unforgettable experience.

Our older son also had a great immersive experience at a local school. The teachers were incredibly welcoming, creating a supportive learning environment that helped our son feel comfortable and confident. His Spanish language fluency improved significantly as he made friends, but most importantly, his understanding of cultures different from his own helped broaden his perspective about the world.

The trip was such a memorable experience that we have decided to make it an annual family tradition! It was a unique opportunity for us to bond, create lasting memories, and learn about a new culture. We couldn't be more grateful to Yani Peyton, the founder and director of FwFL, for helping to make this life changing trip possible.

Overall, we highly recommend Fun with Foreign Language to anyone looking for a culturally immersive and unforgettable travel experience. Thank you for an amazing trip, and we can't wait for our next adventure in Costa Rica!
