What do you have in your backpack?

Students: Cut out the pictures above of items we find in a classroom. Grab your backpack or a bag and play a game of putting the photos of the items inside your backpack and telling a family member what you have in your backpack. Practice saying these sentences in Mandarin Chinese while you play. If you have the actual items, great use them! Now make this more challenging by changing the "I have" to "he/she has". See below for examples:

wǒ yǒu là bǐ。 I have crayons。 tā yǒu là bǐ。 She has crayons。 我有蜡笔。 她有蜡笔。

wǒ yǒu jiǎn dāo。 I have scissors。 tā yǒu jiǎn dāo。 He has scissors。
